

Future

By Klaus Scholten

Syllables echoing through my mind, ricocheting from my skull

Words searching for their families, resulting in understanding

Sounds forming a tune, looking for a meaning

Songs creating a world, offering a widened horizon

Emotions expressing empathy, receiving enigmatic sensations

Pictures longing for frames, trying to find a melody

Ideas focussing on angles, solving irrelevant problems

Worlds seeking for balance, unknowing the outcome

Descriptions explaining unasked questions, leaving irritation

Essays meaning to unease, startling readers

Limits not to be exceeded

Outcomes not to be underestimated

Future inevitably to be different!

